	Re: TSA TANKER SHIPPING I have not got the answer but there may be a clue in the following. I have a drawing of the funnel said to belong to J.A. Johansson of Göteborg which is blue, narrow black top, with a red [not yellow] "M" above 2 wavy white lines. Johansson bought the "Margot" in 1978 and I have a B&amp;W photo in which the "M" looks more the colour of the lines i.e. possibly could be yellow but unlikely to be red. He also later bought "Margaron" which my drawing source seems to indicate used the same funnel. ShipSpotting Supporter
	"Margot" by the late 1980s was operated by K Lundgren & Co. A/B which in the early 1990s also began operating "Margita" registered under Rederi A/B Neta.

Then in 1992 TSA Tanker Shipping AB, which Lloyds Groups show as a subsidiary of Tarbit Shipping AB, was fomed and all of the ships mentioned, i.e. "Margot", "Margaron" and "Margita" ended up under their managership, with "Margot by this stage being registered under Partrederiet for M/T "Margot" and the other two under Rederi A/B Nesta.

My suspicion is that the markings have remained unchanged during the different operators/managers. The "M" could refer to a charterer of course though another possibility, unusual but not unique, is that it could refer to the ship name. Or there is a mystery owner still hidden in the background.
